Accessing Liquidity During Restrictive Markets

ADVISORY

KPMG Corporate Finance is a leading investment bank serving domestic and international clients. Our Special Situations Advisory Group (SSAG) is a specialized investment banking team that provides an integrated suite of advisory services for companies experiencing financial stress and stakeholders seeking to preserve or maximize value. We can help you evaluate the breadth of liquidity options available during today's highly restrictive credit markets.

Global economic conditions have deteriorated to unprecedented levels and the restrictions imposed by lenders have impacted companies across all industries. Companies are being confronted with unexpected and complex challenges caused by these changes. Whether you face liquidity challenges, declining performance, or disruptions to previously available credit facilities, you need the right team of advisers to help you navigate through this uncertainty.

Our SSAG professionals can access alternative sources of debt and equity capital who are continuing to lend and invest during this restrictive credit market. We develop and implement debt restructuring strategies to de-leverage companies' balance sheets and raise cash quickly through an accelerated M&A process. Our dedicated team focuses on the following services:

- Alternative Financings
- Debt and Equity Restructurings
- Distressed M&A
- Lease Negotiations and Modifications

BUSINESS OWNERS REMAIN CHALLENGED IN ACCESSING CREDIT

The current credit crisis and a potentially prolonged economic recession have pushed an unprecedented number of companies into financial distress. This includes financial institutions that have historically played an important role in supporting the operations of mid-market companies. The impact on these institution's clients has been significant, resulting in additional unexpected challenges. These challenges impacting daily operations may include:

- A current factoring or credit line has been suddenly eliminated, or is at risk of being curtailed, which creates an immediate working capital shortfall that could be fatal to your business operations.
- Traditional financing solutions are not available due to the current condition of the global capital markets.

Business owners facing these challenges may try and solve this critical problem on their own, while others may choose to do nothing and hope for a quick recovery in the economy. But astute business owners are proactive and seek professional advice to supplement or replace their existing credit facility.

KPMG CORPORATE FINANCE'S SPECIAL SITUATIONS ADVISORY GROUP IS UNIQUELY QUALIFIED TO ASSIST BUSINESS OWNERS IN ACCESSING NEW SOURCES OF LIQUIDITY

KPMG Corporate Finance – We Can Do a Great Deal Together.

WE ARE UNIQUELY QUALIFIED TO DIAGNOSE AND EXECUTE THE APPROPRIATE STRATEGIES FOR YOUR SITUATION

Special situation transactions are complex, time-sensitive initiatives that involve companies that are experiencing a liquidity crisis and diminishing value. For businesses that are under financial stress, it is important to understand that there is an inverse relationship between time and enterprise value: the more time a business remains under financial stress without a resolution, the faster the value of the business will likely deteriorate. This will likely result in fewer available restructuring options, which can ultimately result in the need for a bankruptcy filing.

The successful execution of a transaction for a company in financial distress requires highly specialized experience and knowledge of bankruptcy procedures, each constituent's rights and remedies, and the ability to think creatively and negotiate effectively in an adversarial context.
